

Gifts & Decorative ACCESSORIES

CAUSE GIFTING

From page 38

Man's Best Friends

PETS ARE STILL BIG business, especially for empty nesters. Pet products may be maturing as a category, but pet and endangered animal charities still appeal to that crucial cute factor.

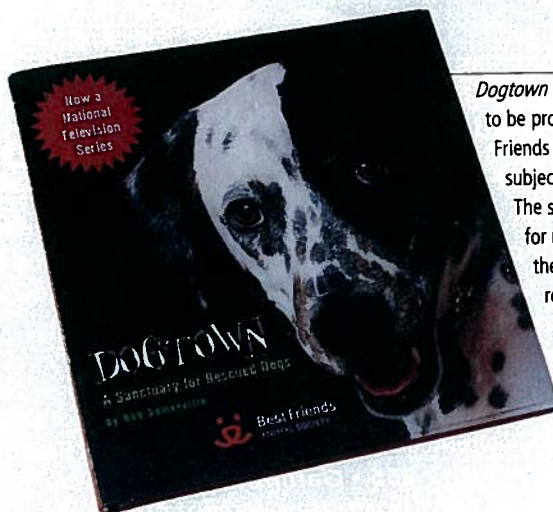

POUFI! (Pat Off Unwanted Fur) adhesive sheets remove pet hair and fuzz from clothes, upholstery and more. A portion of proceeds is donated to Guide Dogs for the Blind. $3.99/20 sheets. Mrs. Grossman's, Petaluma, CA. (800) 457-4570. Reader service #817

Greeting cards feature photographs of rescued pets and donate to animal charities with every sale. 5"x7". $2.99. Dogonfunny Creations, Jarrettsville, MD. (410) 692-0426. Reader service #815

ToadBag 100 percent cotton tote bags provide a contribution to Amphibian Ark, an international organization dedicated to saving 3,000 species of frogs currently in danger of extinction. $19.95. Never Kiss A Frog, Los Angeles. (310) 502-4047. Reader service #806

Dogtown is the first in a series of four books to be produced in partnership with the Best Friends Animal Society. Dogtown is the subject of a national television series. The second book, Kittyville, is scheduled for release in October. As the "author," the society receives an advance and royalties from sales of the books. $16.95. Sellers Publishing, South Portland, ME. (800) 625-3386. Reader service #804

To page 44